Fifth Victory in Event.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTERN POINT, Conn., July 26.
—Max R. Marston of Philadelphia won the twelfth annual men's invitation golf tournament of the Shenecossett Country Club today by defeating E. L. Beard Jr. of Flushing, L. I., 3 and 2.

By virtue of the victory, the Merion Cricket Club player now holds two legs on the trophy he donated two years ago, after he gained permanent possession of the Griswold Trophy by having won the championship three times. Today's triumph makes five times Marston has won the tournament in six years.

Marston was never behind on the outward nine, and when he reached the turn he was 3 up. Coming back he won the tenth to become 4 up, but Beard won the twelfth and thirteenth to reduce Marston's lead to two holes. Marston came through with a birdie 2 on the fifteenth and again was 3 up. They halved the sixteenth in 4 and the match was over.

Earlier in the day Marston passed the semi-final round by turning back David S. Gamble 3d of New Haven, Conn., 2 up. Beard won the other semi-final by the same margin from John Hennessey of Providence, R. I.

The cards of the finalists:

Out—

Marston 4 5 4 3 5 3 5 4 5—38
Beard 3 3 5 4 6 2 3 5 5—40

In—

Beard 5 3 5 4 4 4 4
Marston 4 3 6 5 2 4 4

Dow Ahern of Willimantic became the medalist when he returned from an 18 hole trip on the links with a 77 in a play-off. The other two who sought medal honors were Richard F. Berry of Hartford, who took 87, and Cy Jenks of Norwich, who scored 86.
